

Course Materials

Class Textbooks:

Like other ASHI courses, they are also designed to give you a lively and enjoyable learning experience. The textbook not only explains the concepts in clear language; it also shows you how to do all the skills, step by step, with many photos and drawings.

Wilderness

Remote EMS Kit:

Each participant will be issued a Wilderness remote EMT kit. This kit will be used during class scenarios as well as a working EMS kit after the course has completed. It's yours to keep.

Enjoy the challenge and the sights of the most beautiful canyons, highest peaks, and tallest cliffs in Texas during your week in the BTSR Outback. Created thousands of years ago, during the formation of the earth, volcanic activity sent the Davis Mountains over sixty-five hundred feet above sea level. Calderas and erosion left the rocky peaks two thousand feet above the valley floor, creating the Outback that you will be training in!!!!

Your Week at BTSR

You will enjoy your stay in West Texas. BTSR is our home for this week of classes. You will enjoy the outdoor wonder of these mountains. Your meals will be cooked for you in our rustic dining hall. Need a treat or souvenir? Our Trading post will be open for all WEMT students. You will stay in one of our Bunk Houses right here on the ranch. Everything you need is included. Just bring your sleeping bag, rugged clothing (suggest jeans and bring a jacket its colder in the mountains. Also bring a head lamp and rain gear. You can leave your cell in the car! Cells don't work in the outback, however calling cards can be bought in the trading post. Wireless satellite internet is provided for you to contact your loved ones.

See you There!

The Course

WFR/WEMT trains you to understand and avoid wilderness hazards and cope with emergencies in wilderness or disaster situations. You learn how to do emergency care with whatever you have on hand or can improvise, including advanced skills such as reducing dislocations. We use vivid slides and interactive teaching methods to bring the topics to life. Skills practice is intensive. Our instructors work with you individually and in small groups. Realistic simulated accidents help you put your skills together and develop your leadership abilities.

The Schedule

April 23-28, 2012. Class will run from 8am - 5pm, with the exception of one nighttime rescue course. All Meals and Quarters are provided

Program & Certifications

Wilderness topics and skills are the same for WFR and WEMT, but EMT's and Paramedics are already trained to a higher level in some generic topics such as recognizing and treating medical problems. So those currently certified as EMT's, Paramedics, Nurses and MD's receive WEMT certification on graduation; and other participants receive WFA with WEMT audit certification. ASHI certifications in WFR and WEMT, valid three years, are recognized throughout the United States and in many other countries. To be certified, you must make up any skills training you miss and pass the exams. You must also show current certification in Basic Life Support for Health Care Providers (not included in the WEMT/WFR class).

WILDERNESS EMT UPGRADE

Wilderness EMT Upgrade is a 40-hour course for those who are already certified as EMT's, RNs or Medical Doctors. The course builds on EMT training and adds wilderness concepts and skills, with many role-playing scenarios. Students are expected to minimize the need for lecture by studying and preparing thoroughly for each class. WEMT Upgrade may also be taught as an add-on module to a regular EMT course. This Course is designed for EMS, RN's and Medical Doctors. Most states will count the 40 hour course towards professional CEU's. Non medical personnel can take the course in an Audit status, but must have an advanced knowledge of emergency medicine. This is a demanding course and is conducted over a 5 day period. Food, Lodging and Course materials are included in the course.

BTSR is an ASHI Approved Training Center
